

EES: 2025: Digitising Doughty Mews

The Building the Future project will transform our London premises into an accessible, innovative, and sustainable heritage centre. The Campaign goes from strength to strength, meaning our headquarters will soon become unrecognisable! For many, these walls are etched with the memories of all the Society has achieved since moving to Doughty Mews in 1968. To preserve a record of the premises before the redevelopment, we want to create a 'digital time capsule' to share with our supporters around the world, and with future generations. If funds permit, we will also create a digital model of the building, so that you can continue to walk its halls – albeit via computer screen.

As we look toward a new chapter in the EES' history, we need your help to preserve a lasting record of what has come before, one which we can share with the world.

We aim to raise £15,000 before 1st April 2026 to begin this work and share a record of our premises during our redevelopment project. Those giving £500 or more to the Appeal will be credited in the video and invited to an exclusive online premiere when the premises have closed for redevelopment.

Please help us to lay the foundations for future access to our collections, thank you.
